

Kleenheat's ultimate backyard cricket rules

No LBW

Too many arguments, though enthusiastic appeals encouraged.

Wheelie bin wickets

Ball hits anywhere on the bin, you're out. No exceptions.

Ball tampering is OK

Fuzz-up the tennis ball? Sure. Cover half with tape? You bet.

Auto wickie

The most reliable fielder in the game. Never drops a catch.

Not out first ball

Cricket's for all ages and skill, so give Nanna a second chance.

Retire at 50

A quick game's a good game. Raise the bat, then give someone else a go.

Six & out

No one likes a slogger. Go get the ball, too.

Tip and run

Cleanest drive or faintest edge: you hit it, you run.

One hand, one bounce

The golden rule: single rebound and a one-hand catch? Start walking.

End of play

Pull up stumps only when the sausages are ready, all balls are lost or it's too dark to see.
